In the English language, capitalization is used for names by which a god is known, including 'God'. Consequently, the capitalized form of god is not used for multiple gods or when used to refer to the generic idea of a deity. The English word God and its counterparts in other languages are normally used for any and all conceptions and, in spite of significant differences between religions, the ...

Old Testament. Proverbs 21:3 says that "To do what is right and just is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.". New Testament. The New Testament exhibits a tension between two aspects of grace: the idea that grace is from God and sufficient to cover any sin (except the Unforgivable sin) and the idea that grace does not free humans from their responsibility to behave morally.

God not only wants us to do good works, not only He has prepared them for us but He has also CREATED us for them. This article looks at Ephesians 2:10 as well as at other passages of the Scripture that show that the good works that God has prepared for us are in fact part of our spiritual DNA, what we were created for.
